

I am writing to express my concern over the possible introduction of low-power FM to my area in Newport, OR. I listen to a couple of FM stations that are carried on FM translators. One of them is K-LOVE on 89.9, 107.1, and 88.7 FM. Another is KLCC on 90.5 FM.

K-LOVE provide a tremendous service to our community through outstanding music, encouraging content that helps people with difficulties they endure. KLCC is a public station that provides NPR.

It would be a huge, sad loss to our community if we could no longer enjoy these stations because of new LPFM stations that made them unusable.

It is definitely in the best interest of our community to continue to allow K-LOVE and KLCC to broadcast as they have. A huge void would be left if these stations went away.

Respectfully,

Doug Smith
